

Men's Foot Size Scale - American

To ensure printout scaling do not select "fit to printable area" or "shrink to printable area" in the print dialog prompt.
Print both pages on regular letter size paper (W 8.5" x H 11")

Carefully align page 2 on above line after folding. Once done tape them together from left to right.

Fold here on dotted lines

Measure the Length of your Feet.

- Position your right heel firmly on heel line.
- Put your weight onto the foot you are measuring and relax your toes.
- Look straight down.
- The line that touches your longest toe indicates your shoe size.
- Measure both feet and select the largest.
- The shorter lines in between shows half size.
- If your measurement is between two sizes, always move up to the larger size.

Measure the Width of your Feet.

- Position your right heel firmly on the heel line.
- If your feet creeps into the grey zone, your feet is wide width.
- If some bit of your foot skin slips into wide width zone when in relaxed position, you are still medium width.
- The width/girth difference between each size is 6mm.
